

Marino Railway Station

Station upgrade

The South Australian Government has committed $2 million to upgrade the Marino Railway Station. The upgrade will improve passenger safety and comfort.

What's happening

Works to upgrade the Marino Railway Station will start on Monday 14 April, and are expected to continue until mid-2025.

The upgrades will include the installation of CCTV, a digital information kiosk with a 24-hour emergency help phone, a new shelter, improved seating, and tactile paving along both sides of the platform.

Continuous work will occur during the Seaford rail line closure, starting after the last train service on Thursday, 17 April, and ending before the first train service on Tuesday, 22 April.

This closure will allow us to carry out works that can only be completed while the trains are not in operation.

The works will take place on the Marino Railway Station platform including in and near the rail corridor between Newland Avenue and Bandon Terrace.

The upgrade of Marino Railway Station is expected to be completed mid-2025.

What to expect

You may experience high noise levels from rail equipment, with some minor levels of vibration also expected from machinery. There will also be noise associated with vehicle movements and essential communication between workers.

However, every effort will be made to minimise disruption to residents during these works.

Temporary lighting towers will be used at night to ensure safe working conditions for the team. We will ensure the lights are directed towards the work site, however there may be some light which spills into other areas.

We will work with the directly affected residents to understand their needs and minimise the impact as much as possible.

Traffic impacts

There will be changes to traffic conditions to keep everyone safe while works are underway. We urge everyone to follow traffic management directions. The carpark on Newland Avenue will be closed for the duration of the project. Pedestrians and cyclists are encouraged to take care when travelling through the area. See below map for details.

Public Transport impacts:

There will be no trains in operation from the last train service on Thursday 17 April, until the first train service Tuesday 22 April. There will be substitute bus services operating, for further information about public transport services, including timetables or to plan your journey please visit www.adelaidemetro.com.au
