MINISTER'S OVERSEAS TRAVEL REPORT

I travelled to London, Manchester and Glasgow from 5 April 2019 until Monday 15 April 2019 inclusive.

The purpose of the travel was to participate in the Urban Development Institute of Australia (UDIA) UK Study Tour (Tour).

The objective of the Tour was to gain knowledge from practical, world-leading examples to help address the challenges which confront South Australia's urban development future. The Tour visited three cities in the UK and included meetings with representatives from members of local government, community, the development industry and other bodies.

London: the first leg of the Tour included visits to the following:

- a. New London Architecture (NLA) model, a presentation of the historical development of planning systems, and inherent challenges faced by a city almost 2000 years old, including the regulatory triggers for development opportunity and explanation of public transport links, building form height, local government politics, heritage and preservation regimes. This was presented through the use of a world-class, scaled model of Greater London managed by the NLA;
- b. Kidbrooke Village, sustainable suburban development in Greenwich via regeneration of a former RAF base, provision of 35 hectares of new parkland and open space mixed in with 1,630 homes, including 753 affordable homes and 170 homes specifically designed for elderly residents;
- c. Shoreditch, a regenerated, formerly derelict neighbourhood which has been transformed into a creative, trendy suburb, popular with young professionals and home to creative and web-based industries;
- d. Waterloo Urban Farm, inner city farming and community gardens creating open space and country experience, helping combat urban density issues and providing a country experience to city dwellers;
- e. Elephant and Castle, AUD$4.1billion LendLease development, a mixed use project comprising at least 2,469 new homes, 50 new shops and restaurants and a new public park, providing open space and affordable housing just off the Thames River;
- f. Nine Elms, regeneration precinct which includes the recent move of the American Embassy. Presentation on the redevelopment of the heritage listed Battersea Power Station, a multibillion dollar mixed use development which showcases the significant challenges of integrating complex heritage restoration with mixed use contemporary housing, office and retail development, including the future of Apple's European headquarters in 2021. The now-third attempt at this project includes public transport upgrades via the extension of the Northern Tube line, which will provide two new Tube Stations to forge a direct link to Westminster, London City and Leicester Square within 15 minutes;
- g. White City, tour of the newly regenerated former BBC studios, an example of regenerative redevelopment sympathetic to the architectural and historical use of the existing built form, with 30 acres of public space, including a new 5-acre public park.

Travelling Overseas?

Be aware of data roaming charges and your responsibility to safeguard government information. Take the least amount of government information possible and contact the ICT Service Desk if you require a secure travel device for your trip, or require assistance with 'hardening' and backing up your regular device. International data roaming charges can be accrued without warning, it is recommended to turn-off data roaming, mobile data, Bluetooth and Wi-Fi on your device. If mobile data is required to access essential government information, international roaming data packs can be purchased with assistance from your ICT Service Desk prior to departure. Risks vary depending on your travel destination. Please seek advice from your IT Security Adviser (ITSA) before you leave.
